

RECENT AND UPCOMING WORK

The City of Noblesville is sharing updates, details and interesting aspects about the Reimagine Pleasant Street project in an effort to keep you up to date on our progress. We encourage you to follow the project on Twitter and Facebook!

GREAT NEWS ON PROJECT FUNDING

As part of the city's commitment to overseeing the project with fiscal responsibility, Noblesville recently received $5.9 million from the Indianapolis Metropolitan Planning Organization, which will help fund Phases II and III of Reimagine Pleasant Street and Phase II of the Midland Trace Trail.

UPCOMING ROAD CLOSURES

Various road closures for the project will begin this spring. See the attached closure map and official detour route. The detour route was designed to remain consistent during the various road closures during the 2023 construction season. The Riverwalk Trail is currently closed from Division Street to Vine Street to construct the connection to the Midland Trace Trail and a pedestrian tunnel underneath the new Pleasant Street. This section of the trail is anticipated to be closed until November 2024. While these closures will be a short-term inconvenience, the project will ultimately provide better mobility throughout our city!

HISTORIC BRIDGE RELOCATION

The historic bridge that once carried the Midland Railway over the White River has been moved to clear the way for construction of the new Pleasant Street bridge. Beaty Construction used two large cranes to carefully lift and move the bridge. The bridge will be safely stored at Conner Prairie until it finds a new home in Hamilton County.

Engineers explored various options for rehabilitating the bridge in place. Due to the existing bridge's impact to the water level in the White River and Indiana Department of Natural Resources regulations, the bridge had to be moved prior to construction of the Pleasant Street project. PARTNERSHIP WITH CONNER PRAIRIE

The City of Noblesville announced a partnership with Conner Prairie to temporarily store the historic bridge as part of the efforts to preserve the structure. Plans for the final destination of the refurbished, reassembled bridge are still being developed. View the press release at reimaginepleasantst.com/news

BRIDGE CONSTRUCTION

Construction of the new bridge continues. With drilling for the foundation shafts on the west side of the White River complete, the contractor has now moved drilling operations to the east side of the river.

Once the drilled shafts are complete, foundation construction will continue with pile driving operations for the bridge piers and abutments, followed by construction of the piers and abutments.
